Project Background

Barangay 752, is an administrative unit in Santa Ana, Manila. The barangay addresses the needs of its residents through programs and their services. They are responsible for maintaining public order in their occupied area, to keep the community safe and secure. The barangay also provides community services.

Antonio T. Quirante and council, who handles various administrative tasks and community-related functions. Furthermore, the barangay facilitates services such as issuing certificates and managing community records that are manually done.

The primary landmarks of the barangay are near MJM Sari Sari Store, Marian Shrine, and the barangay hall. The barangay is situated in Santa Ana district 5 of Manila, Philippines.

Carpio and Basilan State College (2020) reported that although some barangays have already made use of electronic devices to carry out official transactions, conversely, most are still caged with the manual-based operations. Many barangays in the Philippines still rely on manual documentation processes that hinder the development and services of the barangay. Barangay 752, is one of the fitting examples that still faces this issue. The barangay faces numerous problems that hinder efficient service delivery and correct documentation. First, the challenge to get a correct and accurate estimate while counting residents by hand because this method frequently results in errors and inaccuracies. Second, the manual process of issuing certificates is time-consuming and inefficient.
